Hello Everyone,
There has been major flooding here in our state of Brazil and we are asking for prayers. The Jones family and Paulo and I are well and we still have power and water for the time being. However, our hearts are breaking for the suffering of the people around us. Just this morning, the Good News Baptist Church (that the Bayers helped plant and where Chain of Love congregated for many years) is about to receive a number of families who have had to evacuate their homes and will probably lose everything. One of our Seminary students is in the process of evacuating his family. The caretaker of the apartment building where we live, who is a sister in Christ, has moved into our building because her house is completely covered in water. The death toll is rising along with the list of missing people. And there is more rain in the forecast.

We ask you to pray along with us for God's mercies, for the rains to subside and for no more lives to be lost.
Thank you so much! In Christ,
Lyndell

Persecuted Church: Egypt

Recently, Islamic militants set fire to several homes and shops owned by Coptic Orthodox Christians. Although the attackers attempted to prevent the occupants from leaving their burning homes, thankfully there were no reported fatalities. It is believed that the attack may have been triggered by plans to build a new church building in the village. The local Christians had received a permit to build the new place of worship, but they then began receiving threats from opposing community members. Rev Riadh Jaballah believes that the attack was intended "to create sedition and division between the community's Muslims and Christians." He adds that the persecution of those practicing Christianity is not new, especially leading up to Easter. Please prayerfully remember the many Christians in this village who are now homeless. Ask God to fill them with His peace and provide for their daily needs.
